

This PROMOTIONAL BANNER uses a great stock image from iSTOCKPHOTO.com.

Sue Best from Epiphany Extended Day wanted a fun new theme for her program's summer promotion. Combining a snappy title with a terrific royalty-free photo gave her just the look she wanted.

Sign Station uses royalty-free images from iStockphoto.com to give customers a unique look at a very low price. Royalty-free DOES NOT mean totally free, but the images can be used for promotional pieces for a low one time fee to download the image. We often send customers to the iStockphoto web site to surf through the images. They are well cataloged and can be searched by keywords to find just the right image for your project. Once the image is located, a "comp" can be downloaded and sent to us so we can obtain the high resolution version for the project.

Call us if you would like a quote on an eye-catching banner like this one!

Thanks for looking!
